

Join our team and make a positive difference in the environment!

Te Ngahere has been restoring New Zealand's natural resources for over 25 years. Our experts are dedicated to restore and protect what makes this country great - its wildlife and beautiful landscapes.

Te Ngahere is working with the Tūpuna Maunga Authority to restore Maunga throughout Tāmaki Makaurau. The project will undertake both pest animal and plant control with a combination of mātauranga Māori and using best practice guidelines. This is a great opportunity to assist in the delivery of field projects restoring Maunga and other parks throughout the Tāmaki Makaurau/Auckland region

The ideal candidates will be highly motivated individual with an interest in Aotearoa/New Zealand's native environment.

Key responsibilities include:

- Working within teams undertaking pest plant identification and control through herbicide application or manual control
- Restoring areas through native restoration planting
- Undertaking animal pest control to allow our native species to thrive

To be successful in this role ideally applicants will have:

- A passion for the natural environment and its protection
- An interest in mātauranga Māori and cultural background
- Good level of fitness, ability to work in challenging and remote areas
- Positive can-do attitude, strong work ethic, drug free and the ability to work well in a team
- The ability to work away from home from time to time
- The ability to work weekends when required
- Full driving license (NZ class 1). Manual vehicle use an advantage
- NZ Citizen or NZ Permanent Resident status or valid NZ work permit

At Te Ngahere, we take pride in providing a supportive work environment for everyone. We provide practical training courses that will help develop your skills while also giving career development opportunities so people can grow together with us as we strive towards common goals!
